PROFILE

David has over 25 years of consulting engineering experience with eleven years of land development, where he has worked on residential, commercial, and industrial projects. David was the local Engineering Manager for a Civil Engineering company for over 13 years overseeing and participating in entitlements, site design, preparation of final construction documents, design specifications, project estimates, permitting, and inspection of projects. He works closely with clients to help them navigate land development concerns, jurisdictional requirements, land use laws, and construction issues that exist on every project. David has managed the design process on projects such as Federal Air Force Housing facilities across the country and in Europe, temporary employee camps in ND, NV, WY, and MT, and a 2 million sq ft of industrial property development.
